

JOB POSTING
TERM ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

Assumption University is seeking an individual to teach
Topics in Catholic Studies – Catholicism and Marginalization (CATH 8500) in the Fall 2025 semester.

Course Description: This course will explore how Catholicism seeks to better include individuals who have often been marginalized by both the Church and society. The course will discuss how to improve Catholicism's relationship with the poor and unhoused, women, racialized and LGBTQ+ communities, elderly, youth, persons with disabilities, immigrants and refugees, abuse victims, and additional members who feel without a voice in the Church. Students will explore what structures and approaches will need to be changed so as to work toward a more inclusive Church for all.

Length of Appointment: September 1, 2025 to December 31, 2025 (Inclusive)

Class Date and Time: Thursdays 6:00-8:50 PM

Delivery Mode: Online and Synchronously

Stipend: $9,000.00 (Canadian)

Deadline to Apply: May 9, 2025 before 4:00 PM

Required Qualifications

- ✓ A completed Ph.D./Doctorate in Catholic studies, theology, or a cognate field of study.
- ✓ A distinguished teaching record at the university level, preferably at the graduate level.
- ✓ A knowledge of Brightspace is required.

Application Instructions

Please submit the following to Mrs. Cécile Bertrand-Skory at cbertrand@assumptionu.ca:

1. Cover letter that outlines the candidate's qualifications and experience to teach this course. The cover letter may be addressed to Dr. John Cappucci, President, Assumption University.
2. Complete and updated Curriculum Vitae.
3. Proof of completed Ph.D./Doctorate.
4. List of 3-5 academic/professional referees (Please note that the applicant's submission of referees shall constitute their consent/permission to allow Assumption University to contact and/or follow up with the referees as it may deem appropriate).
5. One sample publication/thesis chapter, teaching evaluations, or other relevant materials.

Assumption University thanks all individuals for their applications, but only those selected for an interview will be contacted. Meeting the position's educational requirements and competencies does not guarantee a candidate the position. Situated on the traditional lands of the Three Fires Confederacy comprising the Odawa, Ojibway, and Potawatomie Nations, Assumption University is one of Canada's most historic Roman Catholic institutes of higher learning. Tracing its origins to 1857, our mission is to empower individuals to cultivate goodness in themselves and others, embody discipline in their path towards excellence, and recognize the importance of constantly pursuing knowledge throughout their lives.
